I also agree that life skills should be taught at school. The school should improve all possible skills of the child. The child must develop then he will experience some situations easier. In my opinion, (with) teenagers should work ^{with} psychologist develop communication skills finding a common language. Teens also need to develop the ability to take responsibility this is a very important skill of an adult. The ability to position and present oneself in society, the ability to set goals and achieve them. Financial literacy is also important you need to be able to manage your money. Besides ability to work with information skills of the future, one who's better that others will be able to organize information will be successful. In conclusion I want to say that this lesson is necessary and all this skills must be distributed according to the training program. (136 words)

Life skills should be taught to teens at school together with traditional subjects? I approve of this idea of education. I would like to explain my point of view on it.

In my opinion, it is the absolutely right system. In the first place, most of the school knowledge that teachers give at schools is useless. Moreover, we don't have time to learn what we really need for our future lives. And life skills will be useful to all students and teenagers.

On the other hand, ^{some} many peoples say that children can learn life skills at home. I can not agree with it completely, because if the child does not have basic first aid skills, it is the teacher's fault.

To sum up, there are different points of on this problem. I believe that life skills should be taught at schools. As I see it, it will make education much more useful and interesting!

In some countries, education is compulsory and students must study compulsory school subjects. There is the required amount of knowledge specified in the national curriculum. We must be educated and well-erudite people. However, some teenagers do not know exactly who they want to be, so they cannot choose priority subjects for their education firstly, it helps us maintain good health. Modern students are very busy. They must study six days a week. In addition they must affect their health. You know that good health is the highest wealth. In addition, I believe that the main goal of our education is education, so we cannot use all of these compulsory subjects. Finally, students do not work hard if they are not an object of interest, so studying compulsory subjects is a waste of time.

Today's children are people of a new generation, a new information society. Modern children seek to learn new things.

I believe that teachers should teach children what is useful to them in life.

For example, you can enter an item such as ethics and psychology of family life.

Which would teach teens the basics of gender relations norms, rules and psychological techniques that allow you to create a strong friendly family. In adolescence, this subject was to teach reasonable prudence and restraint, the ability to interpret their feelings.

I believe that this is a very useful item that will surely come in handy for every person.

And there are many such important items.
It is very important to teach teens important things at this age. ?

And here the the most difficult part of our trek began, we had to climb to the top. The mountain was not very high so we quickly climbed it. After climbing we were tired and decided to take a halt.
